THE HOME

502 Ellicott is a four-bedroom, four-bath end-unit residence spanning 2,173 square feet across three levels. The home includes a ground-floor bedroom with a full bath—a practical layout for multigenerational living or guests. The main level offers an open-concept living area with quartz countertops, a large kitchen island, and upgraded cabinetry. Upstairs, the primary suite features a walk-in closet and spa-inspired bath. Originally serving as the community showcase home, the property retains custom accent walls, designer lighting, and a fully finished two-car garage. A private driveway provides additional parking for two vehicles. The 830-square-foot lot sits in a recently developed enclave near Caltrain and VTA light rail.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD

This section of San Jose offers a balance of suburban scale and transit access. The area is served by Caltrain and VTA light rail, with Highway 101 and 85 nearby. Downtown San Jose is a 25-minute drive; Stanford University is 41 minutes by car. Walk Score rates the neighborhood 55, classifying it as somewhat walkable. Daily errands are anchored by Safeway, FoodMaxx, and a selection of cafés including Panera Bread and Bill's Cafe. Nearby parks include Ramac Park and George Page Park. Dining options range from In-N-Out Burger to Saapaaduu. The mix of national chains and independent merchants reflects the practical rhythms of South Bay living.

55 WALK SCORE®
Somewhat Walkable

Walk Score® rates an address from 0–100 by how easily everyday errands — groceries, coffee, dining, school pickup — can be done on foot. 50+ means some errands can be walked, 70+ means most can, and 90+ is a rare walker's paradise. Transit and Bike scores read the same way for public transportation and cycling.

ABOUT CLARENCE

Clarence Madrilejos

REALTOR® | SILICON VALLEY · DRE #01806386

I have been helping Silicon Valley families buy and sell homes since 2007, from first-time home buyers looking to start a new chapter together to families looking to upsize, to someone tired of the commute and wanting to be closer to work, to retirees looking forward to relocating to be closer to family. Regardless of the reason, I have the privilege of helping people during important life transitions. During these important times, I bring my knowledge, experience, and creativity to make buying, selling, and relocating as easy and enjoyable as possible.

As a Compass agent with the Oldham Group, I have access to world-class tools, resources, and support, so I can focus my time and energy on my clients' needs. I can share important insights into the Silicon Valley real estate market and lifestyle. I have helped clients buy and sell in Silicon Valley. I make sure they have the knowledge, insights, and strategies to feel comfortable with the real estate process and feel confident in their decisions.

My clients trust me since I am rooted in the Silicon Valley community. I am a second-generation native of San Jose who grew up in the Berryessa Area. I enjoy what makes life in Silicon Valley special, from the variety of outdoor activities nearby to exploring the different downtown areas to trying out the newest restaurants –just to name a few. Whatever you and your family are drawn into, Silicon Valley has always felt like a place of possibilities.
